These openings span numerous departments including housekeeping, hotel operations, security, food and beverage, retail and casino operations. They also include opportunities with its other Las Vegas resort, Wynn Las Vegas.

Due to high levels of interest and Wynn's reputation as an employer of choice, Wynn anticipates more than 65,000 applicants -- or approximately 12 applicants for every open position.

These openings present an opportunity to join the only Mobile Five-Star, AAA Five-Diamond, Michelin Five Red Pavilions award-winning team in Las Vegas. Working at Encore is also a chance to be part of Las Vegas history as Steve Wynn's properties have always set the standard for luxury.

Opportune Timing

According to the Nevada State Department of Unemployment, statewide unemployment jumped to 6.4 percent in June 2008. June's rate ranks as the state's highest since February 1994. In view of these compelling statistics, Wynn's 5,300 job openings are bucking national trends and could not come at a more opportune time.

"This is an especially exciting time for us. As we expand, we are looking for people who share our dedication to excellence and passion for impeccable, personalized service. At Wynn Resorts, we are committed to providing both our guests and employees with extraordinary experiences unlike any others," said Stephanie Rosol, vice president of human resources with Wynn Resorts.

"We are incredibly proud of our reputation, and we're seeking people who want only the best for themselves and their families. If you expect to accomplish great things, value what you do, and want an employer who is going to recognize your contributions, this is where you belong," said Rosol.
